IN BRIEF

This small holding is accessed via a long driveway that leads to a complex of farm buildings including the main 3 bed house, the older farmhouse and several outbuildings set around a courtyard that include stables, a longere, barns, workshop and everything used formerly to produce foie gras. With the addition of photovoltaic panels this would be for ideal off-grid living - even the water used is well water which has been tested and is fine to use, though mains water is also available should you prefer to pay for it!
