NOTES

DESCRIPTION

Entering the house with a space for the home office (12m²) this leads into the dining room (18m²) that has an open fireplace and period tiling. There are French double doors to access the garden, doorway to kitchen and access to living room and a wet room with shower, toilet and handbasin. The living room (48m²) still needs work to finish off. Entering the kitchen (34m²) with period tommettes, there is a beautiful original normandie cheminee fireplace, with double French glass doors leading to the garden.

Ascending the stairs to the first floor you will find four bedrooms – two tandem bedrooms to the right of the stairs (17m², 14m²) where the second bedroom contains a bidet and handbasin. Left of the stairs are the other two tandem bedrooms (20m², 35m²) each with their own bathroom (5m², 6m²). There is access to the attic that could be turned into further space/bedrooms.

Adjoining the farmhouse is the central heating room (21m²) which is oil fuelled heating, and space to use as storage. On the other side of the path adjoining the huge 19 century barn is a wood storage shed. The period brick barn is the 'piece de resistance' built around 1900 from carrouge brick, and split over three levels you could have a bed and breakfast hotel, or gite apartments. The ground floor is currently split into 3 pieces (104m², 61m² 7m²) with a total surface area of...
